

River of Renewal

Credits

Director
Carlos Bolado

Producer/Writer
Stephen Most

Executive Producer
Steve Michelson

Narrator/Producer
Jack Kohler

Editor
Rhonda Collins

Character Interviews

John & Bob Anderson

Farmed Klamath Project land near Tulelake, California. A veteran, Bob won his farm in a federal lottery after World War II.

Dan Bacher

Editor of Fish Sniffer and an advocate for sports fishermen in California.

Craig Barbre

A commercial salmon fisherman based in Morro Bay, California.

Leaf Hillman

Vice chair of the Karuk Tribal Council, has been a leader in the campaign to remove the four hydroelectric dams on the Klamath River, which would restore hundreds of miles of salmon habitat.

Lyle Marshall

Was the Hoops Valley Tribal Chairman when interviewed

Susan Bowers Masten

Former Chair of the Yurok Tribal Council and former president of the National Congress of American Indians.

Raymond Mattz

A gillnetter who is currently on the Yurok Tribal Council. Mattz won a case before the U.S. Supreme Court that reaffirmed his tribal fishing rights and led to the reinstatement of the Yurok reservation.

Merkie Oliver

Yurok gillnetter who lives at the mouth of the Klamath River.

Ron Reed

Cultural biologist who catches salmon with a dip net at Ishi Pishi Falls on the Klamath River.